CELEBRATE TRADITIONS!

Getting together around a family holiday table, no matter what country we live in, we speak our native language, feast on the dishes we've known since our childhoods, and teach our children the deep respect for traditions that we feel ourselves, for we know that these traditions are the glue that holds families together and, in a bigger sense, makes the whole world such a wonderful place to live in.

So let's celebrate our traditions and enjoy the wondrous winter holidays together!

REPLICA MEDALS

134970 Old Moscow Glass Holder
Brass, 1 drinking glass,
1 cup holder, 1 spoon.....$99.99

Tea-drinking is a truly significant part of the Russian culture. It is not just a beverage – it's a social activity with a long-reaching tradition behind it. The history of the Russian tea-drinking ceremony began in 1638 when the Russian Tsar Mikhail Fyodorovich received a special diplomatic gift from the Mongol Khan. The tradition of tea glass holders continues to this day!

This picture is famous not only because of how well it is painted, but also because of the popularity of hunting in the 19th century. Vasily Perov (the artist) was himself an avid hunter & in this painting he accurately reflects the emotional state of the characters - boys will be boys!

Gorodets painting is one of the most famous folk arts of Russia & a vivid phenomenon of the so-called "naive art." Bright and iconic horsemen, soldiers, ladies, gentlemen, and dogs – these were the images of the unique style and famous techniques of Gorodets artists.

This type of finely knit, down-hair lace shawl originated in the Orenburg area of Russia about 250 years ago. This part of Russia is famous for its shawls, known as Orenburg. In English, they are often called "wedding ring shawls" because, although the shawls are quite large, a shawl knit in this traditional fashion is so fine that it can be pulled through a wedding ring.

CROWN OF THE MONOMAKH

Since 1547, the year of crowning of the first Russian Tsar Ivan the Terrible, to the late 17th century, the Crown of Monomakh was used in crowning of all the Russian rulers until 1682. It is an early 14th century gold filigree crown, decorated with sable & natural pearls.

IMPERIAL CROWN OF RUSSIA

Court jewels. The Grand Imperial Crown of Russia. It is studded with 4,936 diamonds. The entire piece is made to resemble a mitre, traditional headwear of leaders in some religious traditions. The crown consists of two hemispheres (representing the 2 halves of the Roman empire), which are edged with 75 white pearls and divided by a central arch. You'll note oak leaves & acorns in the garland design of the arch, motifs that represent strength and resilience. Atop the arch sits an enormous spinel, which weighs 400 carats and has been part of the imperial collection since the 17th century. The diamond cross situated atop the spinel emphasizes the religious role of the monarch. A red velvet cap sits inside the crown.

5. 167905 SU-34 The Flying Tank Scale: 1/72$49.99
The SU-34 (NATO reporting name Fullback) is a modern multirole fighter-bomber produced by the Sukhoi Bureau and belongs to the 4+ generation of warplanes. The plane is able to operate day and night and in any weather and has a rare pilot seating configuration for a fighter plane – both operators sit side-by-side. This plane has been used extensively in the Syrian military action by the Russian forces since 2015.

6. 167908 Petr Velikiy Russian Nuclear Powered Battlecruiser
Scale: 1/700. Set Includes: Model, glue, paint, painting brush.....$49.99
This Kirov-class battlecruiser is the largest battleship in the world, after aircraft carriers. The heavy nuclear-powered battlecruiser is equipped with the most cutting-edge battle systems produced by the Russian military. It entered service in 1996 and is part of the Northern Fleet.

7. 167898 T-14 Armata Russian Main Battle Tank
Scale: 1/35. Set Includes: Model, glue, paint, painting brush.....$72.99
T-14 Armata is a new, truly unique tank – no other military in the world has anything like it. One of the tank's most discussed aspects is its unmanned turret, made possible by the fully automatic cannon loading system. This provides unparalleled safety to the tank crew, as the turret is always its most vulnerable part. T-14's main cannon can fire a wide range of projectiles, from armor-piercing rounds to guided missiles. Coupled with the state-of-the-art, multi-layered defense system, the tank is said to be superior to that of any other tank in the world.

8. 178859 The Black Pearl: Captain Jack Sparrow's Ship*
ONE OF A KIND KITS! Scale:1/72. 895 pieces. Length: 21.6".....$99.99
This overwhelmingly beautiful sailing ship model is made in Russia with the close cooperation from Disney. The ultra-high detailization of the parts, prior unavailable for plastic models, ensures that the completed Black Pearl will be on par with the best wooden ship models! At the same time, this ship far exceeds all similar products in the ease of assembly. Practically everyone will be able to construct their very own Black Pearl, regardless of experience. Many experts in the field name this the very best plastic sailing ship model produced to date.
The Black Pearl will make the perfect gift for every fan of the cult movie, especially children, who will love building the ship with their parents, spending many fun-filled hours together!

9. 178860 Flying Dutchman*. GLOW IN THE DARK!
Scale: 1/100. 74 pieces, Length: 21.6".
Set Includes: Model, glue, paint, painting brush.....$59.99
According to legend, the immortal and invulnerable crew of the Flying Dutchman is cursed to roam the seas of the World Ocean forever, unable to ever come ashore, and instilling horror into every sailor on the water. The model comes with the special, glow-in-the-dark paint, making the completed and painted ship a great decoration for any living room or bedroom!

According to the Chinese zodiac, the symbol of 2019 is the Yellow Earth Pig (Boar). This animal embodies abundance, generosity, and wealth. The Pig is the patron of hardworking people and couples. How to celebrate:

The Earth Pig is the symbol of comfort. It is recommended to decorate not only the Christmas Tree, but also the space around it. The Pig will love various kinds of candles, colorful balloons, and golden ribbons. The costume you wear should also be paid special attention to. However, even though gold is the main color for the year, a yellow dress is not an absolute necessity – just add the right accessories and the Pig will be happy! What brings luck during the Year of the Pig
